

FARMING WHILE BLACK

Soul Fire Farm's Practical Guide
to Liberation on the Land

Please join us at Alameda County Community Food Bank on Saturday, April 27, 2024, 11:00 am-2:00 pm for a screening and conversation about the film, "Farming While Black".

7900 Edgewater Drive, Oakland, CA 94621

(Community Engagement Center

(Look for the orange awning at the back of the property))

"Some of our most cherished sustainable farming practices have roots in African wisdom. Yet, discrimination and violence against African-American farmers has led to their decline from 14 percent of all growers in 1920 to less than 2 percent today, with a corresponding loss of over 14 million acres of land. Further, Black communities suffer disproportionately from illnesses related to lack of access to fresh food and healthy natural ecosystems. Soul Fire Farm is committed to ending racism and injustice in our food system."

RSVP to: sburks@accfb.org